

BRAINERD WELCOMES POTATO EXCHANGE

WOOD LEADS IN SOUTH DAKOTA PRIMARY ELECTION

With 80 Per Cent of the Vote Unofficially Tabulated Wood Lead Lowden by 3000

All Candidates Still Claim State--Norbeck Leads for Senator and McMaster for Governor

(United Press)

Mitchell, S. D., March 24—With approximately eighty per cent of the state tabulated unofficially, South Dakota's primary presidential endorsement appeared to be anybody's early today.

Major General Leonard Wood was less than three thousand ahead of Governor Frank O. Lowden, of Illinois, and Lowden was leading Senator Hiram Johnson of California by two thousand votes.

W. H. King, chairman of the republican state central committee, claimed at 10 o'clock last night that Wood's plurality would be between six and seven thousand.

Most of the precincts not yet reported were country precincts, and Lowden's followers claim his vote would be increased by these returns. Johnson's campaign manager, O. L. Bronson, declared that Johnson's vote would be increased by the country precincts.

General Wood carried most of the cities in the eastern half of the state, but in many of them the vote was extremely close. Aberdeen apparently went to Lowden by a small margin. Johnson carried Pierre and carried Minnehaha county outside the city of Sioux Falls, which went to Wood by a few votes.

Wood carried leading cities in the Black Hills by a small majority with Johnson and Lowden practically breaking even.

Governor Peter Norbeck headed the campaign over R. Haney for United States senator, and W. H. McMaster of Yankton, apparently was nominated for governor over R. O. Richard of Huron.

Gerard Democratic Choice

Major General Leonard Wood's headquarters today claimed that 31 counties out of 53, reported in the South Dakota primaries gave him the plurality for the republican presidential nomination. They conceded eleven counties to Senator Hiram Johnson and ten to Governor Frank Lowden of Illinois, with one undetermined. The vote as given out by Wood workers as returns from 53 of the 63 counties in the state were: Wood, 21,998; Lowden, 17,359; Johnson, 15,880. The Poinsett vote was negligible.

While chief interest was centered in the republican votes, all indications were that James W. Gerard will be given a big endorsement on the democratic ballot. His opponent was James O. Monroe of Illinois.

Farmers-Labor Meeting

St. Paul, March 24—Willis M. West of Grand Rapids, or Dr. Henrik Shipstead of Glenwood, were considered most likely of the numerous candidates for the Farmer-Labor endorsement for governor to be selected late today at simultaneous conventions of the Nonpartisan League and the Working Peoples Nonpartisan Political League.

The two conventions propose to name a joint state ticket. The first ticket would be the prospective one for governor. Each convention was being advised of what the other was doing through the conference committee.

I. W. W. Proselyting Among Service Men

Asserted Spear Before Committee Advocating Soldiers Bonus

(By United Press)

Washington, March 24—The I. W. W. are carrying on an extensive campaign among ex-service men, the purpose of which is a combination of force for the overthrow of the government, J. E. Holden of Utah, one of the traveling representatives of the American Legion, asserted before the house ways and means committee today.

A large number of ex-service men are "seething with discontent" and believe they have been treated unfairly, G. G. Scrugham, of Nevada, representing the American Legion, declared before the committee in presenting the organization's demand for a soldiers bonus. Scrugham asserted the feeling of unfair treatment is based on the fact that "everybody but them is rich as a result of the war."

"You were urged to protect the munition makers and other holders of war contracts from losses and the service men believe their losses are entitled to a little consideration," Scrugham said.

The total cost of the program demanded by the Legion will be $2,160,000,000, Rep. Longworth of Ohio, declared.

Holden said the radical campaign was being carried on vigorously among men in hospitals. Being a wounded man himself he told of twice being approached by attractive women and after being given fruit was handed several I. W. W. pamphlets.

"In Chicago the I. W. W. leaders are claiming that twenty per cent of ex-service men in that locality have joined them," Holden said.

"In general I have found that the service men spurned the I. W. W. advance because the great rank and file do not propose to fight for this country and then join with such an organization in an effort to overthrow the government," Holden said.

Naval Captain Testifies to Inefficiency of Secretary Daniels

RAYMOND CLAPPER, (United Press Staff Correspondent.)

Washington, March 24—Alleged inefficiency of the navy in the war was due in part to persistent methods of Secretary Daniels as an executive, Captain Harris Laning, a technical officer in the department, declared in the senate naval inquiry today.

Daniels was so occupied with details, he said, it was often impossible to get approval of important policies. American agents in Germany prior to Feb. 1, 1917, were sending full information to Washington regarding submarine preparations there, but Laning declared, in spite of this, the department even then failed to take steps to get the fleet ready for war.

British Miners Reject Wage Offer

London, March 24—The miners' federation of Great Britain has voted unanimously to reject the government's offer for a wage increase of one shilling and six pence a day. The miners held to their demand for an increase of three shillings a day.

Daylight Savings Law Effective

In New York and Other Cities Adopting Scheme Locally—Will Produce Confusion

New York, March 24—The repeal of the national daylight saving law and its subsequent enactment by many cities, which threatens to throw traffic into confusion, begins next Sunday, railroad officials here said.

The New York Central and New Haven railroads will adjust their suburban train movements to the new time, but clocks and time tables will remain eastern time. Other railroads announce they will await developments before making changes. Through schedules will be unchanged, it was announced today.

New York City has adopted daylight saving, effective Sunday at 2 A. M. At that time all city clocks will be set ahead one hour. New York state adopted the plan when a bill for its repeal was defeated. Although Connecticut has not adopted the plan, Hartford has passed an ordinance for its observance. In New Jersey a bill has passed the assembly and is pending in the senate. Many other cities from coast to coast have adopted daylight saving.

Saloon Dead as Slavery Says Wm. Jennings Bryan

Springfield, Ill., March 24—"The saloons are as dead as slavery," Wm. Jennings Bryan, here today to address the state constitutional convention, declared in an interview.

"I expect both national nominating conventions to declare prohibition a settled subject. There is not the slightest prospect of a wet plank in either platform, and long before convention time the wet will understand it, if they do not now. They will contribute efforts toward securing a platform non-committal on prohibition and then will try to secure non-committal candidate and will practice deception on the public as they have always done. The national political situation is hard to understand, because until the treaty is ratified it will be hard to know the relative influence of different issues."

Bring Pressure to Pass Suffrage in Delaware Legislature

Dover, Del., March 24—Suffrage leaders today called upon the national leaders to bring additional pressure to bear upon the Delaware legislature to ratify the constitutional amendment. The suffragettes plan to delay a vote on the ratification bill for several days in the hope that several members of the legislature who now oppose suffrage can be whipped into line. The ratification bill was to be presented today.

Brainerd today is host to the directors of the newly organized Minnesota Potato Exchange. Nine directors arrived Tuesday and were entertained in the evening at a theatre party as guests of D. D. Schrader.

At 10 o'clock Wednesday morning the directors convened in private session at the Chamber of Commerce. This gathering will last until noon.

At 1 o'clock the public meeting for farmers, business men and citizens generally will convene at the Chamber of Commerce. Other meetings follow Thursday.

Headquarters of the directors have been established at the Ransford hotel where every possible courtesy is being extended the distinguished visitors.

Brainerd, with a number of other cities, is competing for this exchange and it will be a valued addition to Brainerd activities if the exchange headquarters will be established in this city.

Directors

The directors of the Minnesota Potato Exchange are:

President—Ludvig Mosback of Ascov.

Vice President—Senator James Cumming of East Grand Forks.

Secretary-Treasurer—H. B. Plummer of Hawley.

Other board members—Joseph Hoffman of Ogilvie; E. P. Nauretz of Little Falls; John Erickson of Aitkin; M. J. Thompson of Wadena; H. O. Bjorge of Lake Park; E. E. Schulte of Ten Strike.

These men are no theorists. They are all practical farmers and the acreage of their farms under cultivation and the products raised attests to that fact.

Potato Production

In 1919 Minnesota shipped 40,000,000 bushels of potatoes. Michigan shipped 30,000,000 bushels. This gives some idea of the growth of the industry in this state.

Minnesota seed potatoes enjoy a high reputation and are eagerly sought.

Cooperation Needed

Cooperation on the part of Brainerd citizens will be required to get the Potato Exchange established in Brainerd. This city is not the only one visited by the officers in their quest for headquarters.

On Tuesday President Mosback was in St. Cloud looking the city over for the purpose of considering the advisability of locating headquarters there of the Minnesota Potato Exchange.

The Potato Exchange, says the St. Cloud Times, is a central selling organization for cooperative farmers shipping associations in the central and northern part of the state. The potatoes are unloaded at different points in the territory where they are sorted and prepared for the market.

Brainerd Center of State

As Brainerd is in almost the exact geographical center of the state, has good railway facilities, is in the center of a rapidly developing potato section which won first prize in the Northern Minnesota Development Association potato contest and thus has the goods to show, things point to the selection of Brainerd as the best qualified and best situated city to be made the official headquarters of the Minnesota Potato Exchange.

Wide publicity can be gained by the Potato Exchange if established in Brainerd. Whereas the St. Cloud Times gave the association a two and a half inch of a reader, the Brainerd Dispatch featured the Potato Exchange with a seven column front page head. That plainly shows what Brainerd thinks of the Exchange.

FROM CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

"Brainerd considers the meeting of directors of the Minnesota Potato Exchange one of the most important ever held in the city and if the Exchange can be prevailed upon to establish its headquarters in Brainerd it will mean much to the city and community.

"Minnesota is one of the six great"

50 Governments Rule in Germany

Villages Govern Selves and Organize Armies to Fight Neighbors

Berlin, March 23—Here is a cross-section view of Germany today—torn by revolution, beset with fears, bereft of a future, hopeless, frantic, despairing, stripped of all order and cohesion and retaining only one attribute of her former self, a knowledge of warfare and how to kill.

In the last 24 hours I have completed a 400 mile motor trip from the Rhine to the heart of Germany—Berlin. My route lay across the important industrial province of Westphalia.

Villages Organize Armies

With two German chauffeurs and a Belgian interpreter I passed through scores of villages and manufacturing towns. Practically every village constituted an authority of its own with no relation to its neighbors. It was like crossing in a day and night 50 different national frontiers—and that without a passport.

Armed barriers separate the local forces and town governments are as many and varied as the hostile tribes of a desert. The confusion that swept Germany last Saturday disrupted all established authority. Cut off from the directing head of all affairs in Berlin the outlying districts suddenly found themselves called upon to govern themselves as best they could.

Communication Cut Off

There has been a general strike and cessation of all rail communications in each community, with but the smallest opportunity for communicating with neighbors. The result has been disintegration, strife and bedlam.

"With the paralysis of the central government, outlying towns, big and small, had meetings to establish authority. Whatever clique or organization was first to step into the breach with initiative and strength was the one that controlled.

In one town it might have been the alert town elders called by the burgomaster who decided immediately to retain the name of the old government until further developments. If these were believed uncertain the government troops or state police or town militia immediately put out patrols, collected as far as possible all the arms and weapons in the town hall and ordered disarmament of all other persons.

Towns' Recognition Different

But in the very next town, five miles further along the road, it may have been the plumbers' union that was first to organize, control and establish the new authority, in which instance it may have been decided to steer a middle course, siding neither with Ebert nor the Kapp government, but vesting all authority in a workers' council with the president of the

POLITICAL CHAOS REIGNS IN GERMANY, THOUSANDS KILLED

Industrial Districts in Control of Communists---Every City Has Different Government

More than a Thousand Communists Killed in Violent Fighting

By CARL D. GROAT (United Press Staff Correspondent.)

Berlin, March 24—The formation of a socialist workmen's cabinet under the terms of an agreement reached between the Ebert group and leaders of the radical element, was reported last night.

The government's agreement, under which the radicals consented to call off the general strike definitely, was substantially as follows:

The government agrees to withdraw all regular troops from Berlin.

No armies will be sent against the communists in control of the Ruhr industrial district.

The workers will be consulted in the reorganization of every phase of the government.

The radicals threatened immediate resumption of the general strike if any of their demands are not complied with.

1000 Communists Killed

Mayence, Germany, March 24—More than one thousand communists were killed in violent fighting between Ebert troops and the reds in the region of Wesel, Gothe and Hennesdorf, according to dispatches here today.

Fighting between Belgian troops and German reds was reported in Duisburg.

Armistice Arranged Between Communists and Gov't. Troops

Paris, March 24—A forty-eight hour armistice between the western German communists in the Ruhr district and the government forces, has been arranged, a dispatch from Bielefeld said today.

The armistice was arranged at a meeting between representatives of the Ebert government and the Ruhr communist commission, the dispatch said. It was believed the communists were informed of the government's promise to Berlin radicals that the government will be reorganized with a purely socialist cabinet. In the event of further attacks by the Reichwehr troops the Ruhr radicals threatened to flood the coal mines, the dispatch said.

Compromise With Communists

ED L. KEEN, (United Press Correspondent.)

London, March 24—Gustav Bauer, premier in President Ebert's cabinet will leave Berlin probably today for west Germany where he will endeavor to reach an agreement with the communists in control there, a Berlin dispatch by way of Copenhagen said today.

Herr Giesberts, the socialist leader, will accompany Bauer, the dispatch said. The decision to enter into negotiations with the communists followed a long conference between Bauer and the coalition of radical element in Berlin yesterday. Bauer finally agreed to all the radical demands, the dispatch said. It was decided that a temporary government will be formed immediately under direction of the independent and majority socialists. This new government will be only of temporary character pending the new election which it will arrange. The Ebert group has agreed that the communist leaders in control of the uprising in western Germany, shall not be punished.

Germany was threatened today with a serious food shortage especially in Berlin and the larger cities, unless immediate measures are taken to restore demoralized transportation, according to advices here.

Von Kapp Officials Arrested

CARL D. GROAT, (United Press Staff Correspondent.)

Berlin, March 23—(Night)—General Von Luettwitz, minister of defense in the Von Kapp insurrectionary movement, has been arrested, government officials said tonight. Admiral Von Trotha, Chief of the admiralty also has been apprehended.

Government chiefs continue to search for Von Kapp.

The general opinion prevails tonight that the government gradually is getting the situation under control, except in western Germany where it was reported communism is spreading rapidly.

Indications were that communism had gained strong support and government troops had withdrawn. The situation was quieter, it was reported. Whether this district will go over to President Ebert was not clear. Advices to the British mission here indicated the situation in western Germany quieting somewhat. Rumors of serious trouble continues to filter in but it was learned many of the reports were merely duplicates of earlier stories.

Back to Land Movement Advocated By Women

(By United Press)

Chicago, March 24—Women are more successful than men in dealing with farm animals, Mrs. B. W. Rosenstone, of Palos Park, Illinois, believes.

Urging women factory workers and stenographers to seek the open air, Mrs. Rosenstone said that they would need a few varieties of naughty words, but they are naturally kind, and women are superior in handling animals.

Cows give a better flow of milk handled by women, according to statistics. Mrs. Rosenstone declared the "back-to-the-land" movement opened a wide field for women.

Tax Law Revision Not Probable This Session

Washington, March 24—Another clash between President Wilson and congress was in sight today. Congressmen and administration officials expect President Wilson to insist on the revision of the federal tax law before the present legislative session ends.

In the face of this both house and senate leaders let it be known that at present they have no idea of allowing consideration of the revision before the November session, and that they do not believe that what the president may say will cause them to change their minds.

With the democratic administration and the republican congress thus opposing each other, members of both parties foresaw that tax revision may become one of the major campaign issues, although it is unlikely either party would permit reduction.

They believe the country in general will go into the year 1921 without definite knowledge of what taxes it must pay, for many circumstances are forecast as a result of the predicted conflict.

WORKMEN'S RISK LAWS DESCRIBED

COMPENSATION STATUTES HAVE BEEN ADOPTED BY NEARLY ALL THE STATES.

WIDE DIFFERENCES FOUND

Main Features of the Four General Systems of Insurance for Employees That Are in Force in the United States.

By JAMES P. HORNADAY.
Washington.—At present 42 states,
the three territories of Alaska, Hawaii and Porto Rico, and the federal government have workmen's compensation laws upon their statute books. These laws range widely as regards both coverage and amount of benefits provided.
Very considerable differences appear in the methods provided by the laws of the 39 states in which insurance is obligatory. Thus, the state may make provision for the carrying of such insurance and require all employers coming under the act to avail themselves of such provision; or the state fund may simply offer one of alternative methods. Again, the state may restrain entirely from such action, but require insurance in private companies, stock or mutual; and lastly, self-insurance may be permitted, i. e. the carrying of the risk by the individual, subject to such safeguards as the law
may prescribe.

Broadly speaking, the laws may be divided into four main groups or combinations of groups, namely: (1) Exclusive state fund, (2) competitive state fund, (3) private insurance, either stock or mutual, and (4) self-insurance or where employers are permitted to carry their own risk. In most cases the employers have the option of several kinds of insurance.
This does not hold true, however, of the states having strictly exclusive systems. In these cases no other form of insurance is permitted.

Exclusive Systems in Six.
Six states have exclusive systems.
In three of these, Nevada, Oregon and Porto Rico, compensation is elective and insurance is therefore not absolutely compulsory, since employers need not accept the act, but should they accept, insurance in the state fund is compulsory. In North Dakota, Washington and Wyoming both compensation and insurance are compulsory. In these six states the state becomes the sole insurance carrier. It classifies the industries into groups according to hazard, fixes and collects premiums, adjudicates claims and pays compensation. Two other states, Ohio and West Virginia, are nearly exclusive in character. They allow no private casualty company to operate, but permit self-insurance. Ohio permits employers to carry their own risk, though all such employers are required to contribute their proportionate share to the state insurance fund surplus.

Self-insurers, however, are not permitted to insure their risk in private companies. West Virginia has practically an exclusive state insurance system. It permits no private insurance but does allow self-insurance.
The employers, however, who desire to carry their own risk must contribute their proportionate share to the administrative expenses of the law.

In the 31 other states having compulsory insurance laws some form of competition exists, or at least the employer is given an option as to the method of insuring his risk. In nine of these states the laws provide for a state fund through which the state conducts a workmen's compensation insurance business in competition with private liability companies. Idaho differs somewhat from the other states having competitive state funds. It allows employers to carry their own risk and also permits substitute insurance schemes if the benefits provided equal those of the act. Self-insur-that the words "guaranty contract" in-

Provisions for Self-Insurance.
Thirty-one states allow employers to self-insure or carry their own risk, the exceptions being the exclusive states and Massachusetts and Texas.
Employers who avail themselves of this privilege are required either to give proof of their financial solvency and ability to pay compensation or to furnish bonds or other security, or to do both. In several states such employers are also permitted to secure their compensation payments by guaranty insurance.

When full use of the elective provision is taken into account, covers all employees. The nearest approach to universal coverage is the New Jersey act, which includes all employees except casual laborers, public officials and public employees receiving salaries in excess of $1,200. The principal exemptions, in the order of their importance, perhaps, are: Nonhazardous employments; agriculture; domestic service; numerical exemptions,
i. e. excepting employers having less than a specified number of employees; public employees; casual laborers or those not employed for the purpose of the employer's business; and employments not conducted for gain.

Kava in a New Way.

The national beverage of the Samoan Islanders is "kava," obtained from the dried fruit of a plant known to the botanist as Piper methysticum. The classic method of its preparation was by chewing. Water was added, and, after straining, the stuff was ready to drink. Missionaries convinced the natives that this method did not accord with the best social customs, and so nowadays they grind the kava root in a stone mortar with a stone pestle. To any unaccustomed person kava tastes rather like soap-suds, though some say it has a flavor of varnish. Many Americans, however, having acquired a liking for it, drink it by the gallon. But the native way of preparing it is too slow for them, and they prefer to use a meat grinder.

Direct Coal Buying for Three Months

(By United Press)

Washington, March 24—President Wilson, within a few days will sign executive orders directing all departments of the federal government to purchase and store up a three months supply of coal during May, June and July, it was learned today. State and county governments and other utilities will be urged to do likewise.

The result will be that the mines will be kept busy during the dull season, and there will be such a saving that the twenty-seven per cent wage increase granted the miners by the coal commission will be absorbed and not passed on to the purchaser. If not so absorbed the wage increase granted five hundred thousand miners would be passed entirely to the consumers, and increase the price of coal fifteen per cent beginning April 1, it was estimated.

NORTHWEST NEWS

Non Partisan Convention

St. Paul, March 24—Forces of the National Nonpartisan League of Minnesota were gathering here today to finally plan the campaign in which they announced a year ago they would "capture Minnesota in 1920."

At the same time the newly organized Working Peoples Non-Partisan Political League was convened. The conventions are separate but are expected to endorse a joint slate of candidates for state officers.

The two bodies are expected to operate jointly as an independent force in the national and state elections this year and will not be aligned with either of the major political parties.

Both conventions are expected to endorse a candidate for president, vice-president, senators, and congressmen from Minnesota in the national elections. In view of the situation in North Dakota and South Dakota political observers here today predicted the bodies would endorse U. S. Senator Hiram Johnson for President.

At the same time backers of other presidential candidates are making a bid for farmer-labor support but outside the Non-partisan league alliance. Various delegations in both conventions today were expected to put up fights for endorsement of Herbert Hoover and possibly Frank O. Lowden. Because of the endorsement of Maj. Gen. Leonard Wood by the Republican administration in Minnesota, neither of the conventions was expected to take action regarding his candidacy.

Several candidates have been mentioned for possible endorsement of the two non partisan organizations for governor. Several leaders early today predicted the endorsement would go to Willis Mason West, former head of the history department of the University of Minnesota who has been farming near Grand Rapids, for many years.

A boom for Mayor Victor Power of Hibbing for the gubernatorial endorsement was brought down by delegates from the iron range, and he has a considerable backing, they said. Dr. Henrik Shipstead of Glenwood, W. F. Schilling, of Northfield and C. A. Lindberg was the league's candidate two years ago and was defeated. Later he was tried for alleged disloyalty on charges brought by the Public Safety Commission, a war body. He is reported to be unwilling to become a candidate again.

The two conventions will end tomorrow and on Friday night will stage a mass meeting in St. Paul to which the public will be invited.

Minnesota W. C. T. U.

St. Paul, March 24—The Minnesota Women's Christian Temperance Union has turned its attention from prohibition to Americanization and child welfare since the nation was voted "dry." St. Paul and Minneapolis organizations today presented playlets picturing "Americanization" and "The Child in the Midst" before a state convention of district superintendents and presidents of the W. C. T. U. A banquet will be held tonight and tomorrow the delegates will be entertained at a luncheon. About fifty district presidents and superintendents are here.

Farm School Graduation

St. Paul, March 24—Graduating from a practical farm school is quite a different thing from the "Commencement" in other schools, fond parents of farmer students learned today.

Instead of frills and ribbons and square topped head pieces attracting attention, those who witnessed the graduation of 100 boys and girls from the central farm school, University of Minnesota, today, found themselves interested in practical demonstrations what their proteges had learned.

One member of the class gave a practical illustration on how to properly mill livestock rations. Another showed how to battle the barberry—ally of the back stem rust as an enemy of wheat. The use of the motor truck by the farmer was outlined by another student and another told how to battle the high cost of living. Life saving methods and proper use of coffee also were illustrated.

Immigrants to Dakota

Fargo, March 24—Forty-five carloads of immigrant moveables destined for North Dakota passed through Minnesota transfer bound for North Dakota, last week, according to figures gathered by Dr. John H. Worst, state immigration commissioner. Mr. Worst is also authority for the statement that 1920 will see the biggest influx of settlers into North Dakota in the history of the state. One reason given was the high price of land in the central states.

CHAPERONES FOR CHORUS BEAUTIES

Did you ever hear of chaperones for chorus girls? No? Well, the 20 chorus beauties, and the six girl stars in "Jr. Mimic World," coming to the New Park theatre April 1, have chaperones not only in New York, but when they go "on the road" as well. There are three mothers of girls in the show, officially engaged by the "Woods Enterprises," who own the show, to travel with the troupe and guard the physical and moral welfare of the girls. They are responsible for every girl in the troupe, and no girl can accept an invitation from a man, or go anywhere in a social way, without the consent of one of the chaperones.

The chaperones are Mrs. Fields, mother of Fields sisters, the dainty dancers with the company, who impersonate the Dolly Sisters; Mrs. Smith, mother of Margaret Smith, who impersonates Florenz Tempest, and Mrs. Morley, mother of the Morley Sisters, who impersonate the Courtney Sisters.

The three ladies find their task a real sinecure, for not a girl in the company has ever tried to throw off or evade their authority. The girls understand exactly what is expected of them, and never fail to secure the consent of one of the chaperones if she wishes to accept any invitation. Their comings and goings is an open book to the three ladies, and they find that caring for the 20 girls in the show is a real pleasure. They do not curtail any of the pleasures which the girls might seek, but see to it that it is all innocent fun, and carefully look over the list of young men who seek the company of their charges.

So, young man, if you want the company of one of the "Jr. Mimic World" beauties to supper, or if you want to take her for an auto ride, or to tea or luncheon, look up Mrs. Fields, Mrs. Smith or Mrs. Morley and state your case. They'll receive you and hear you, and perhaps if you are lucky you might capture one of the charming daughters of the three ladies.

Give Stomach What it Needs

The Alkaline Effect of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets Usually Corrects the Stomach Faults that Provoke Attacks of Indigestion or Dyspepsia

To sit back after a good meal and know there is not going to be sour risings, gas, drowsiness and discomfort is the logical result of using Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets immediately after eating. Most people believe they can trace each attack of indigestion to the something they ate and can still "taste." And it surprises them, invariably, to note how quickly relief comes after using one or two of these tablets. Whether it is highly seasoned food, rich pastry, the heavy hearty foods or some one particular offender the relief comes just the same. Those who are susceptible to attacks of indigestion or dyspepsia should try Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets as they supply the stomach with an alkaline effect just as it does naturally when it is working in a good perfectly healthy condition.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are so widely known and used that you can get them in any drug store in the United States and Canada at 50 cents a box.

ACID IN STOMACH SOURS THE FOOD

Says Excess of Hydrochloric Acid is Cause of Indigestion.

A well-known authority states that stomach trouble and indigestion are nearly always due to acidity—acid stomach—and not, as most folks believe, from a lack of digestive juices. He states that an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach retards digestion and starts food fermentation, then our meals sour like garbage in a can, forming acid fluids and gases which inflate the stomach like a toy balloon. We then get that heavy, lumpy feeling in the chest, we eructate sour food, belch gas, or have heartburn, flatulence, water-brash, or nausea.

He tells us to lay aside all digestive aids and instead, get from any pharmacy four ounces of Jad Salts and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast while it is effervescent, and furthermore, to continue this for one week. While relief follows the first dose, it is important to neutralize the acidity, remove the gas-making mass, start the liver, stimulate the kidneys and thus promote a free flow of pure digestive juices.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and sodium phosphate. This harmless salts is used by thousands of people for stomach trouble with excellent results.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy

It soothes and heals the inflamed air passages, stops the tickling in the throat, and by its tonic effect enables you to throw off the disease. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is quite different from the ordinary cough medicine, for it not only soothes but also heals, so that the effected parts are restored to a healthy condition and the danger of a future attack is removed. ## SPORTSMEN'S NIGHT THURSDAY EVENING

Crow Wing Game, Fish and Bird Protective Club Meeting at Gardner Auditorium

CARLOS AVERY, CHIEF SPEAKER

Moving Picture Films of Wild Bird and Animal Life to be Shown by Mr. Avery

The sportsmen's Crow Wing Game, Fish and Bird Protective club will stage their big meeting Thursday evening, March 25, at 8 o'clock at the Gardner auditorium. The public is welcome, whether members or not of the organization.

The executive officers of the club have arranged to have present at this meeting Carlos Avery, State Game and Fish Commissioner, the highest executive in the state on game and fish. Gardner auditorium has been arranged to seat 500 so as to take care of the crowd expected.

Mayor F. E. Little will introduce the speaker. Mr. Avery is bringing with him some very interesting moving picture films of wild animal and bird life and these will be shown.

R. R. Wise, a director of the "10,000 Lakes Association" will speak and other local men and club officers will be on the program for short talks on various interesting subjects in connection with outdoor sports. Catching lake trout at Gull lake next summer is one of the treats planned through club action.

Ladies are welcome at the Thursday night meeting and many have already signified their intention of being present.

The Crow Wing Game, Fish and Bird Association was organized January 31 of this year at the Woodhead Motor Co. offices with about 25 sportsmen present. It was decided at this meeting to make a membership drive and stage a large meeting. Brainerd apparently was craving for an organization of this kind because in two months the membership was an even 500.

An attendance which will tax the auditorium's capacity will be the kind to impress Mr. Avery and convince him of the interest shown by club members and the public in matters affecting fish, game and birds. A good impression so gained will do much towards having the state supply local wants for fish spawn, Chinese pheasants, quail, etc., and the club will see to their distribution throughout the community.

The club is also arranging for instructors to teach bait and fly casting to members free of charge. Casting tournaments will be arranged for. Many lakes and streams are to be stocked this summer.

Dinner in Evening

At 6:30 o'clock Thursday evening Carlos Avery, executive officer of the State Game and Fish Commission will be entertained at dinner at the Ransford by the club.

The menu will be one to reflect credit on the Ransford hotel and will be served in faultless style. Twenty-five are expected to attend the dinner. Tickets at $1.50 per plate may be secured from John F. Woodhead, secretary of the Crow Wing Game, Fish and Bird Protective club.

This menu will be served:

Consomme
Oyster Cocktail
Celery Olives
Chicken or Small Tenderloin
French Fried Potatoes June Peas
Fruit Salad
Coffee
Ice Cream and Cake

OBRECHT SISTERS

Appeared in an Egyptian Musical Act at the New Park Theatre, Appear Again Tonight

The Obrecht Sisters appeared in a musical act at the New Park Theatre on Tuesday evening and give another performance tonight. They are talented violinists and cornetists.

Playing as a trio, violin, cornet and drums, with costumes and effects of an Egyptian nature, they attract interest at the very beginning. However in the violin selections, constant use of the mute is not appealing to many people, who prefer the clear, buoyant, vibrating tones of a violin to one muted.

In a cornet duet the sisters introduced a novelty.

BRAINERD WELCOMES POTATO EXCHANGE

est producers in the union. Minnesota's annual yield is 30,000,000 or more bushels. The community about Brainerd is rapidly gaining a reputation as a high-class producer of potatoes.

In behalf of the Chamber of Commerce a hearty welcome is extended the Minnesota Potato Exchange. May the directors be favorably impressed by city and countryside and decide upon Brainerd as their choice for headquarters. The earnest cooperation of the Chamber of Commerce is always heartily assured them.

F. H. SIMPSON,

President Brainerd Chamber of Commerce.

WELCOME FROM FARM BUREAU

Today the city of Brainerd welcomes the board of directors of the Minnesota Potato Exchange. The Farm Bureau and the Chamber of Commerce join hands in a big meeting in the Chamber of Commerce club rooms to greet the representatives of 150 co-operative shipping associations throughout the state of Minnesota. These directors have met here to form practical, business like plans for the conducting of the sale of the huge potato crop of 1920.

The directorate of the Minnesota Potato Exchange is well distributed over the potato growing districts of the state.

Crow Wing county in the past year, raised 500,000 bushels of potatoes and lies in the center of the potato growing section of the state. While at the present time the counties lying nearer the Twin Cities are more developed and raise a larger acreage of potatoes than does our county, yet potentially Brainerd is the very heart of the potato belt of the state and were a ring to be drawn around the potato belt of Minnesota, Brainerd would be found to be its very center.

In considering a location for this central exchange farsighted men will look over our potato district and decide upon its location with an idea to a future. Realizing that the northern counties are growing potatoes in ever increasing numbers as years and marketing conditions are improved, a location for its central exchange point should bear that in mind.

Brainerd and Crow Wing county realize the importance of the potato industry, standardization of types, growing of only such potatoes as market demands, is being adopted, throughout the county. The growing of certified seed, treating of potatoes and the co-operative marketing of potatoes is being developed and pushed rapidly.

Crow Wing county already has farmers' co-operative shipping associations at Jenkins, Pequot, Pine River, Fort Ripley and Deerwood, while Brainerd and Hubert have already drawn up articles of incorporation and are selling stock to the farmers for co-operative associations.

Crow Wing county, practically new, is making great strides in this direction. Farmers from southern Minnesota, Iowa, Nebraska and other points are buying land by the hundreds in this county and are entering the potato growing phase of agriculture. Our neighboring counties, Aitkin, Itasca, Beltrami, Cass, Hubbard, Mille Lacs, Morrison, Pine and Carlton and the whole north country are fast becoming potato growing centers to ship through improved marketing conditions, which is adding an ever increasing impetus to the Minnesota potato industry.

E. G. ROTH,
County Agricultural Agent.

Various Species of Gulls.

The common species of gulls found in the region of the Great Lakes in the winter are the herring and ringed bill. The former can be told by his larger size, and his flesh-colored feet. The feet of the ringed bill are bluish in tint, as if the poor bird had frozen them in the cold water; he also has a distinct dark ring on his bill. The darker-colored birds seen in the harbors at this season are usually immature herring gulls. The habits of the ringed bill are similar to those of the herring gull except that they will stay longer in the interior, living on insects which they take on the wing with remarkable skill. Individuals of both species often remain throughout the spring and summer.—Exchange.

FIFTY GOVERNMENTS RULE IN GERMANY

plumbers' union as chief executive and all plumbers armed, brassarded and commissioned to maintain the authority of the workers committee.

Another towns might have had its watchful radicals who get and exported workers and unemployed alike and demobilized soldiers to join immediately in a government by the proletariat. Then the result was a local soviet.

During the night the number of times our car was challenged was seemingly unaccountable. Our fears had increased with darkness. Suddenly in the road ahead our headlights would reveal an armed figure with uplifted rifle. The back wheels would skid as the car would be stopped for inspection of papers and occupants.

Sometimes the guards wore uniforms and sometimes not. They represented every possible complement of government from white to red. We were held up at different times by troops of various categories, including the reichswehr, sicherheitswehr, einwohnerwehr, anberter and Burgerwehr. In one instance we were hauled out of the motor and taken into a bedroom for questions before one supreme authority garbed in plain underwear.

The different soldiers in the different towns we passed were government troops, military constabulary, guards, workers guards, citizens guards and plain uniformed bands of spartacists. Attempts toward uniforming the men were made in some places. Elsewhere they wore arm-bands, sometimes red and sometimes green and white.

Receives Soviet Pass.

Inslerberg, beyond the soviet confines of Magdeburg, we were escorted into the federation of workers, where an unshaven man with a long pipe between his teeth, told me that the proletariat commanded the situation. Then he made out a pass, impressing it with a rubber stamp in purple ink which read "Arbeiter und soldatenrat" (workers and soldiers committee.)

Crossing the river in the center of Brandenburg, we were stopped by gray coated government troops with steel helmets. An officer among them led upon finding in our collection of papers the workers and soldiers pass from Inslerberg. The main street of Brandenburg is broad and paved with asphalt. At 2 p. m. it presented a weird sight.

On one side was a long row of government buildings with ornamental fronts. The street was brightly illuminated with electric arcs which cast a gray light down on the uncanny silence which prevailed. The noise of our motor was the only sound to be heard. We hastened through several barbed wire barricades placed across the street.

In front of the town hall stood a curious black metal statue of a man. It was at least 10 yards in height.

A CLEAR COMPLEXION

Ruddy Cheeks—Sparkling Eyes—
—Most Women Can Have

Says Dr. Edwards, a Well-Known
Ohio Physician

Dr. F. M. Edwards for 17 years treated scores of women for liver and bowel ailments. During these years he gave to his patients a prescription made of a few well-known vegetable ingredients mixed with olive oil, naming them Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. You will know them by their olive color.

These tablets are wonder-workers on the liver and bowels, which cause a normal action, carrying off the waste and poisonous matter in one's system. If you have a pale face, sallow look, dull eyes, pimples, coated tongue, headaches, a listless, no-good feeling, all out of sorts, inactive bowels, you take one of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets nightly for a time and note the pleasing results. Thousands of women and men take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the successful substitute for calomel—now and then just to keep them fit. 10c and 25c.

with feet firmly planted on the sidewalk. One arm extended downward held an uplifted flower in the fashion of an Egyptian painting in bas relief. The extreme thinness of the statue made it look as though it had been a bas relief sliced off the face of some temple on the Nile. At the feet of this giant, and facing in the same direction, was a three inch fieldpiece pointing down the side street immediately opposite and down which the huge statue faced. Beside this cannon were eight silent soldiers in gray coats and gray helmets, all standing rigidly in line, as though on parade.

Kaiser's Old Palace Guarded

With the complete silence and absence of all movement, with the presence of that grotesque giant in black metal and are lights casting off their gray radiance, the soldiers and cannon looked like toys, and the whole scene might have been taken from some moving picture reconstruction of ancient Alexandria. In Potsdam the guards in front of the former Kaiser's old palace were pacing their posts.

In the Grunewald forest we were stopped once by armed sailors, but whom they represented or what they guarded we could not learn.

At a small village near Berlin our headlights revealed a curious sentry in the road ahead. He was about 50 years old, and was dressed in a ceremonial black frock coat, with a silk top hat. He might have been the town undertaker in his working clothes, but he carried an armband of the citizens authority, and more important still, a good German rifle.

Berlin's streets were quiet at midnight. We went to the Adlon hotel. We were forced to make detours in different places to avoid barricades, but none of the guards turned us back.

Don't Neglect the Little Ones

Mrs. J. S. Pittman, 576 E. 156th St., Cleveland, O., writes: "I can't speak too highly of Foley's Honey and Tar.
